This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1902 edition. Excerpt: ... CHAPTER XXV. i DISTINGUISHED PERSONNEL. Tinceines has been a common center in which congregated an array of able and determined man. Most of these became permanent residents. Many after a short sojourn went in every direction to lay the foundations of society in other places, to frame constitutions and laws for the well being of generations of civilized people, and to exercise power and authority over countries of vast extent. It is impossible in a proper limit to enumerate all. Only chosen examples illustrative of the qualities of the men who laid the foundations of our social structure will be presented. FRANCOIS MORGAN DE VINCENNE. This distinguished man was a Canadian by birth. He was a trusted officer in the service of the King of France. He came here in command of the troops of the king to build the old fort in 1702. He came and built the fort near the present site of the Catholic church. He did not remain after performing that service, but returned to Canada. He was there entrusted with an expedition against the Indians near Detroit, which was successful. The last mention of him in the Canadian records is by Le Potheric, who says he was sent to command the fort on the "Ouabasche." When he came, then he remained until his death. He married a daughter of Philip Longpre, of Kaskaskia, Illinois. His father-in-law died in 1732 and left a large estate which was divided among his children. The records in the Recorder's office at Kaskaskia show that de Vincenne went there to look after his wife's interest and that his wife was then at the Post here. The receipt for her to sign for her share was sent here and she signed it before witnesses. This receipt is still preserved in the Recorder's office at Kaskaskia. In 1736 the French were at...
